Data Security and Protection Toolkit WebEx's

Further to the success of the DSPT WebEx's we hosted in February & March, NHS England organised further WebEx dates for all areas in the North Region. We want to encourage people to talk about successes across the North Region as a whole and felt it would be more beneficial to open up the WebEx's to all areas.

There are two WebEx formats:

- Full WebEx which includes a presentation and overview of the DSPT and a brief demo of the toolkit at the end
- Toolkit Demo – this is a full demo of the toolkit covering all 16 questions required for Entry Level

The dates are as follows and are split into the two different formats. To confirm your attendance please contact the WebEx host detailed below, either Peter Adeyemo or Angela King

Consistency and relationships between CQC and providers – focus groups

CQC are hosting a series of online focus groups with providers of care to support our work on understanding what good interactions between providers and inspectors look like. To do this they started by holding focus groups with Inspectors to explore their views and experiences; and are now seeking to better understand provider views on this and look at the impact of good interactions on the quality of care as part of our work with Manchester University Business School.

Focus groups are arranged for 24 April 11:30-12:30 and 3 May 2:00-3:00

These focus groups will support this work by:

- Helping the CQC to understand what good interactions look like from the perspective of providers and enabling CQC to 'test' some of the theories developed with inspectors.

- Providing opportunity to explore some of the good practices in provider and inspector relationships and what the impacts of these might be.
- Discussing some of the practicalities about how such good practices might be adopted by inspectors.

Who should attend the focus group:

A representative from the provider who has had the most interaction with CQC which could be at inspection, and/or interactions between inspections.

The focus group will be online and will last one hour. If you would be happy to attend please confirm by contacting samuel.wallace@cqc.org.uk

Once you have confirmed your attendance you will be sent any further information and joining details as required.

NHS input they receive from GPs, district nurses, geriatricians, palliative care staff, specialist care home support teams etc.

As part of this research they have developed a questionnaire in collaboration with Healthwatch North Tyneside that seeks to identify which of a list of ten important characteristics of care home support services interested members of the public think are most important. They are hoping to engage at least 100 people in this element of the study, and it is vital that they represent the opinions of lay people with relevant knowledge to represent residents’ and families’ views
